Who We Are

The Fuller Center for Housing, faith-driven and Christ-centered, promotes collaborative, innovative partnerships with individuals and organizations in an unrelenting quest to provide adequate shelter for all people in need worldwide.

The Global Builders program is a critical part of the Fuller Center's mission and success. By bringing together people of different backgrounds, faiths and cultures, it's not just a chance to build houses, but also to build friendships, understanding and raise awareness.

Global Builders

Teams of volunteers go on one-, two-, or three-week trips to one of our International Covenant Partner locations, where they help build homes with local families in need. Prefect for church mission groups.

Teams briefly immerse themselves in the local culture while furthering the Fuller Center mission to eliminate poverty housing worldwide.

In their free time, teams can travel, sightsee and experience a new culture.

Participating

Sign up individually or as a group. We help organize mission trips for groups like churches and schools, while individuals can join open trips led by experienced team leaders. Group and team leaders help set the length and cost of the trip.

Covering Costs

Volunteers either pay their own way or can raise money for their trip through various fundraising efforts. Participants can even build their own fundraising page on the Fuller Center website.

Sample trips & Costs:

Estimates include food, lodging, ground transportation, travel medical insurance and a donation to the local project, but not sightseeing or airfare. Trip lengths are flexible; costs will vary.

"Working with others is addictive. Now, I am always thinking about the smiles on the kids I have played soccer with or the hugs I have shared with new homeowners."

- Rob, small business owner, Peru, El Salvador, and Haiti volunteer

"I feel so fortunate to be on this trip and to have met the other team members – such a diverse and interesting group! I never expected to have so much fun."

- Sarah, Armenia volunteer

"Going to India, I'm not sure what expectations I had, but they were definitely exceeded as soon as I got off the plane."

-Austin Thompson, Student, India volunteer
